

Basic Policy for Human Resource Development

1. Cultivate human talent that is capable of outlining a clear vision and demonstrating appropriate leadership to realize this vision.
2. Cultivate human talent that is capable of identifying problems that may affect the realization of the vision outlined by the organization's leaders and taking steps to solve these problems, while increasing the value-added generated by their work.